Board Adopts School Budget, Rate $15.28

State Commends Hubert Hoderath

Chief of Division Declares Local Conditions Are 'Most Gratifying'

Commendation from the State Education Department on the vocational training program being carried out in the city of Kingston, has been received by the Board of Education.

The report comes following an inspection of the vocational school building.

Dr. Frank Johnson, chief of the vocational training division at Albany, writes that the conditions found here were "most gratifying" and that the condition in which the shops, equipment and work turned out indicates that Hubert Hoderath, director, had been doing a splendid job. The cooperative attitude of all of the instructors is also commended upon in the report which goes on to state that the attitude of the teachers is splendid.

The fact that the city is to build additional facilities to house vocational classes, the report states, indicates that the good work being done apparently is being appreciated by the students whose demands have made necessary the expanded program. The students must be "aware of valuable work being done," the report states and the commendation of the department is extended to the local school authorities for the condition of the building, the interest shown and the program being carried out.

This report was made public at the meeting of the board Thursday evening.

Vocational School Work Will Begin July 5th With Rock Removal

The school budget for the year 1949-1950 which fixes the tax rate at $15.28 per $1,000 of assessment, was unanimously adopted by the board of education Thursday evening at its last regular meeting until next September.

Total expenses for school operation for the coming year are $1,412,420.87 and it will be necessary to raise $499,246.06 by direct local taxation.

Adoption of the budget, with the usual resolution relating the budget to the Common Council for its approval, came after a public hearing which was held last Monday evening when only one taxpayer appeared and no opposition was offered to the proposed budget. The common council, which is expected to approve the budget, will meet next week.

Work on the addition to the Vocational School building will begin next Tuesday, Trustee Baltz of the Building Committee announced, when the general contractor will begin removing rock on the site. Mr. Baltz reported all of the contracts were ready for signing and would be signed within a few days as soon as bonds of the contractors had been approved by the corporation counsel.

L. O. A. Slutzky of Hunter is the low bidder for general contract, George McKinnon Company of Newburgh is low bidder for heating, ventilating and plumbing and the E. O'Connor Co. of Rosendale is low bidder for electrical work.

The board approved use of the high school auditorium for community concerts on October 18 and in January 1950.

Approval was granted for Miss M. Carolyn Walker to attend a conference on September 16 and 17. Attendance of A. J. Bruckert at Syracuse conference on July 21 and 22 approved.

The board denied an application of Miles Pollock for an extension of leave from September 1, 1949 to June 30, 1950 on the basis that he already has had a leave of absence for the school years 1947-1948 and 1948-1949. The board however approved a resolution under which Pollock will be "given every possible consideration for any teaching position for which he may be qualified" if his physical condition permits his resumption of teaching at any future date.

Housing Mail Heavy for Buboltz

Kelly Says Requests Made for More Cards Asking Vote for Project

The return postcards were addressed to Alderman John Buboltz in care of the city clerk at the city hall, but Kelly said he had been informed he directed postal authorities to deliver them to his home instead. In an advertisement last night Buboltz directed that all mail be sent to his home, 21 Third avenue.

Because of his decision there's no basis for an actual count of returns by the city clerk, but an unofficial check by Kelly and others interested in letting Fourth Warders record their views on housing reveals, they say, that the alderman's mail has been heavy the past week.

In his ad last night, Buboltz said, "Mail sent to city hall is not received by me."

An inquiry at the city clerk's office revealed that cards addressed to the alderman there had been sent to his home.

When asked why he had printed the cards with the city hall address, Kelly said he intended that they would be on the alderman's desk for the Common Council meeting so that he might be guided by the sentiments of his people in taking any action on the housing project as outlined by the state.

That Fourth Ward residents are vitally interested in more homes for Kingston is indicated by requests for additional post cards to be sent to Alderman John Buboltz (Continued on Page 11, Col. 7)

Michigan Is to Produce Paper Fernandez Signed

New York, July 1 (AP)—A Michigan prosecutor testified at the "lonely hearts" murder trial yesterday that he will produce a statement signed by a defendant, Raymond M. Fernandez—but only because Fernandez approves his doing so.

Roger O. McMahon, Kent county, Mich., prosecutor, said he had promised Fernandez that a statement, which he signed on March 1 after his arrest in Michigan, would not be used against him at his trial here.

McMahon, at the request of the defense attorney, said he would have the signed statement flown here. When a check disclosed it could not reach here today, Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora adjourned the trial until Tuesday morning.

Defense counsel Herbert E. Rosenberg indicated that he may introduce the statement next week in defense of Fernandez and Mrs. Martha Beck, 29, on trial in the blood-gutting strangulation death of Mrs. Janet Fay, Albany, N. Y., widow.

McMahon was put on the witness stand as a preliminary to the prosecution's attempt to introduce a number of statements made by Fernandez after his arrest.

Rosenberg asked McMahon if he planned to keep his promise to Fernandez in regard to withholding the statement.

McMahon said he was, adding that the signed original is in his safe in Michigan. He said an unsigned copy is in the possession of the Nassau county, N. Y., district attorney.

Sunny Week-End Is State Prospect

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—A hot and sunny July 4th week-end is in prospect for New York state, the weather bureau said today.

Temperatures in the upper 80s and 90s will be general over the state, the forecasters said. The western portion of the state will reach the 90-degree range first, with the hot weather becoming general by Sunday, the forecasters added.

No precipitation of any consequence is in sight for the next three days, the weather bureau said. Any rain will be in the form of very widely scattered and light afternoon and early evening thunderstorms, chiefly in the lake regions and the mountains, the holiday prediction added.

Bankruptcy Faces Berlin; Deficit Is About 96 Millions

Shortage Is Reported Result of Strife Between East and West

Berlin, July 1 (AP)—Berlin was threatened with municipal bankruptcy today as a hangover from east-west strife.

A prospective budget deficit of 321,000,000 west marks ($96,300,000) plagued the allied-recognized city government just as its railway strike troubles ended.

Soviet-controlled elevated passenger trains resumed operation in western sectors early today, 41 days after they were tied up by the strike of an anti-Communist rail union.

The railway management said interzonal traffic between Berlin and western Germany was being restored gradually, with pre-war schedules become effective again Monday.

After two days of harassing tactics, Soviet autobahn guards began passing into Berlin all west German truck cargoes which had been cleared at the Russian zone frontier.

But the Russians tightened a blockade on foodstuffs which east German farmers were trying to slip into allied sectors to sell for west marks, now worth more than five times as much as east marks.

City officials blamed Berlin's financial plight on the consequences of a year-long "fight for freedom" against the Soviet Union.

Allied military government sources admitted the emptiness of the city treasury was "an extremely serious matter" but called on Germans to pare the new annual budget to the bone.

While the Soviet blockade cut off Berlin from land communications with the west, allied-occupied German states beyond the Elbe contributed 40,000,000 west marks ($12,000,000) a month to the city.

This gift is now reduced to approximately 21,000,000 west marks ($6,300,000) a month, and the states are grumbling that it should stand still altogether.

4 Buildings Are Burned On Oak Street

Four buildings, one housing five garages, back of 16 Oak street, were damaged by a fire of unknown origin late yesterday afternoon.

Most extensive damage, firemen said, was to the building owned by Hans Ram, of Whiteport. The blaze burned off a large section of the roof and spread through the interior.

Damaged also were a two-story barn, owned by Charles Martini, a two-car frame garage to the rear of 69 Clinton avenue, owned by Irving Rose, and a concrete block garage, back of 16 Oak street, owned by Jacob A. Myers, 16 Oak street. No estimate of total damage was available today.

The five garages were in the Ram building.

Firemen were called on a still alarm at 5:35 p. m. and two minutes later a bell alarm was sounded from box at Clinton avenue and Franklin street. Units from Wiltwyck and Central answered the first call and Wicks Engine and Excelsior Company, responded to the bell alarm.

Firemen attempted to quench the fire at its start with a garden hose, and Officer Gurnsey Burger, Sr., who was off duty and driving past at the time, suggested calling the firemen at once. He later directed traffic at the scene.

Crops owned by Ardell Swanson, 147 Henry street, and Crawford Millham, were moved out by their owners, and one owned by Mrs. Ramon Nadal, 148 Henry street, in one of the garages without a key, was pushed out by neighbors.

Other articles removed included toys and three cans of motor oil.

The fire burned rapidly and Myers' early efforts with the garden hose, helped check the spread of the blaze. Firemen remained at the scene until 7 p. m.

Slovakian Riots Bring Death to 2 Communist Police

Catholics, Red Backers Battle; Partisans Are Resisting Soviet Rulers

Prague, July 1 (AP)—At least two Communist policemen were beaten to death and an undetermined number injured in rioting between Roman Catholics faithful and government adherents in Slovakia recently, according to reliable reports reaching high diplomatic sources here.

These sources added that the situation in this intensely-Catholic province now appeared "quiet on the surface." But they were inclined to give credence to reports that at least small partisan bands of Catholics had been formed there to stage violent resistance to the Communists in the church-state light.

To high up the situation, diplomatic quarters said, the government was restricting travel into Slovakia.

Other developments in the church-state war were:

1. Disclosure that the Czechoslovak Foreign Ministry so far has ignored a protest delivered by the diplomatic corps here about the forcible detention earlier this week of Major Genaro Verolino, Vatican diplomat.

2. Major Josef Beran, archbishop of Prague and the nation's primate, is staging a virtual "sit-down strike" in his palace, refusing government suggestions that he leave for a summer holiday.

Diplomatic quarters were inclined to evaluate cautiously open Slovak anti-Communist activity. Nevertheless, they said, the report about at least small-scale resistance to the Communists (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

Rosendale Lines Break; No Damage To Village Main

Repairs Completed Early This Morning; Change in System Made This Week

An increase in water pressure caused two service lines to break on Main street in the village of Rosendale about 10 p. m. Thursday.

The lines which broke were old top lines in front of George J. Moylan Funeral Home and the Grange Hall, both of which had been in service more than 30 years.

The water main did not break, Mayor J. W. Vaughn reported. Repairs were completed by 1:30 a. m. today and the only damage done was by some water which flowed into cellars, he said.

There was at no time any danger of contamination, Mayor Vaughn emphasized. He stated the water system, which was under the supervision of Edward J. McCaffery, of Kingston, consulting engineer, with the approval of the Ulster County Department of Health, was not affected by the break in the two service lines.

Previous the village system operated with a high pressure area and a low pressure area, Vaughn said, but this week the entire system was changed to a medium pressure system, and certain of the old service pipes were unable to carry the higher pressure. Vaughn explained.

When the lines broke, a call was placed to fire headquarters in Kingston requesting Tilton and Blinewater fire companies to be summoned in the event of a fire in Rosendale in one of the sections serviced by the broken water lines. However, there was no fire and the two companies were not called upon for assistance.

Her Bond Doubled by U.S. Judge

Judge Reeves Gives Two Sentences, Directs That They Be Served Concurrently

Appeal Planned

Palmer Says Matter to Be Taken to Higher Court

Washington, July 1 (AP)—Judith Coplon today was sentenced to 40 months to 10 years in prison for spying for Russia.

The tiny, brunette former Justice Department worker heard the sentence unflinchingly.

A short time before hearing her penalty, she made an impassioned statement to Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves, but she did not ask for mercy.

Miss Coplon was taken into custody by a marshal pending the posting of a new $20,000 bail—double her previous bail.

She then was removed to the temporary lock-up in the basement of the U. S. District Court building, about a block from the Municipal Court building, where she was tried.

Actually, Judge Reeves passed two sentences—40 months to 10 years on the first (spying) count of the indictment against her, and one to three years on the second (theft of secrets) count.

He stipulated, however, that the sentences be served concurrently.

Just before passing sentence, Reeves said:

"I thoroughly approve of the verdict of the jury."

Judge Reeves ordered Miss Coplon to post a new bond of $20,000. Her old bond here—$10,000—automatically expired with the passing of sentence.

She also is under $20,000 bond in an espionage conspiracy case in New York.

Under today's sentence, Miss Coplon would be eligible to apply for parole in 40 months, should she lose the appeal her attorney announced would be made.

Judge Reeves recommended that the sentence be served in the Women's Reformatory at Alderson, W. Va.

He explained, however, that this is a mere recommendation and that the prison will be selected by the Justice Department if Miss Coplon actually serves the time.

Reeves Demand

Judge Reeves rejected a demand by Prosecutor John M. Kelley, Jr., that Miss Coplon be held in bail of $100,000.

He did not part way with this request by doubling her bail here.

Long speeches by the 28-year-old Barnard College honor graduate and by her attorney, Archibald Palmer, delayed the sentencing.

Palmer, however, expressed impatience with Reeves as he talked on and on.

When Miss Coplon finally stood up to hear her sentence she told the judge that she did not think she had received a fair trial.

"I understand that I can plead for mercy," the former political analyst in the Justice Department said.

"That I will not do. To me that would be an admission of guilt."

"I'm innocent—the Kelleys and the Wheatleys may gloat, but I am innocent."

She referred to the prosecutors, John M. Kelley, Jr., and Raymond P. Wherry.

Therapy once was Miss Coplon's boss in the Justice Department.

Miss Coplon, her voice frequently rising with emotion but never reaching hysteria, said Kelley (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

Ford Company Talks Top Labor-Management Affairs

Detroit, July 1 (AP)—The Ford Motor Company's contract talks with the C.I.O. United Auto Workers assumed a clearest top role today in labor-management affairs.

At the heart of it was the big auto union's demand for $100 monthly pensions for 106,000 Ford workers, the U.A.W.'s declared No. 1 goal of 1949.

Overnight developments made the Ford-union negotiations the very likely bellwether for the industry.

Chrysler Corp., one of auto's "Big Three," flatly refused to bargain on either pensions or health and welfare insurance. The U.A.W. has combined the two in new contract proposals.

This had the effect of leaving Ford alone to talk pensions. However, union circles have in-

Woman Is Injured On Tractor-Trailer

Mrs. Clarence H. Brown, 28, of Jacksonville, Fla., who was riding with her husband in his tractor-trailer, was injured slightly when it was struck in the rear by another trailer truck at East Chester street and Flatbush avenue late last night, according to the police.

The report at 10:57 p. m. said that the Brown truck, headed east on the by-pass, had stopped at the traffic light, when it was struck by the other vehicle, operated by Kenneth Barton Simpson, Jr., Watertown, N. Y., and owned by E. L. Simmons of the same place.

Mrs. Brown suffered slight head and neck injuries, the report said, and "needed medical aid."

Injured by Auto

Arthur Chipp of the H. B. Humiston Funeral Home and Ambulance Service in Kerhonkson reported to the sheriff's office this morning that William Thompson, 85, of that village was struck and injured by an automobile, the driver of which will report to the sheriff's office later today.

Thompson was taken by Humiston ambulance to Kingston Hospital, where his condition was reported as "fairly good." The accident was under investigation by the sheriff's office this afternoon. Further details of the accident were not available, Sheriff George C. Smith reported.

New York, July 1 (AP)—A threatened bus drivers' strike in the populous borough of Queens was called off last night four hours before it was scheduled to begin. Green Bus Lines, Inc., and the A.F.L. private transport industry. Kheel announced only Wednesday a similar agreement forestalling a strike on major privately operated bus lines in Manhattan.

Legislators Defy Governor Bowles

Hartford, Conn., July 1.—Connecticut Republican leaders today defied Governor Chester Bowles' order to end a special session of the state's general Assembly.

The Democratic chief executive issued a proclamation adjourning the Legislature yesterday. Republicans, who control the House, flatly refused, however, to accept their walking papers from Bowles, with whom they have been feuding since he was sworn in last Jan. 8.

Less than an hour before the governor issued his proclamation, the House voted to recess until next Wednesday—and its leaders served notice it will be back in session then.

House Speaker John R. Thum (R-Hamden), declared the governor's proclamation was illegal and asserted:

"The House will meet on Wednesday at 11:30 a. m. in accordance with its decision today."

Normally, regular or special sessions of the Legislature are adjourned by agreement of the two chambers.

Democratic-controlled Senate voted to adjourn, but the House already had declared its recess. Governor Bowles then issued his proclamation telling the legislators to go home.

Bowles, former national O.P.A. administrator, battled with House Republicans throughout the general Assembly's regular session and the subsequent special session which he called because of a deadlock on major legislation.

The feud broke out with renewed bitterness just before the governor issued his go-home proclamation yesterday.

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE.

Did I ever tell you about Harry, the philosophical hack?

Well, back in the roaring and rat-tat-talling twenties, Harry and his merry Oldsmobile were usually to be found on the taxi line in front of Lindy's original restaurant at Broadway and 50th, and many of his offhandnesses—especially about women—became part of the lingo and lore of the period. To give you a couple of quick instances: "Never give a wife a present without you got a reason," and, "Money talks, but dames talk louder."

One August evening, I picked up Harry at his usual stand and told him to drive me around Central Park, counterclockwise. I was looking forward as much to the cooling effect of his reflective tidbits as to the park breezes, but for once the cab seemed fresh out of words and the nape of his neck wore a moody look.

"It's hot," I finally observed. "How hot you are?" said the philosopher, depends on how much hot water you're in. Me, I'm hot."

"How come?" "I told a lie to my wife." "Has she caught you?" "Not yet," said the hackie, "but she will. Dames and D.A.s are psychic."

"What lie did you tell?" "A week ago Thursday, when I got home four hours later than usual, I told Annie my cab broke down in Flushing and I had to wait for the repair truck."

"What was the square of it?" "Well, it was like this," said the sidewalk Schopenhauer. "I'm parked in front of Lindy's when a couple of guys I used to go to school with—Al Cassell and Eddie Gurkenheimer—came up to the cab and tell me they want to throw a little coming-out party."

"Where were they coming out of?" "Sing Sing," said Harry. "where they had just finished doing a stretch for a couple of heist jobs in Yonkers. For old times' sake, they say, I gotta come along—and it is my observation it is not only misery that loves company, it is also drunks."

"Please, boys, I tell them, I can't turn off the meter so early and, besides you know how it is with Annie if I don't bring home a good night's pay."

"Good old Annie," says one of the goons. "Let no one say we don't take care of Annie. We're bookin' you solid tonight, Harry."

old pal." And with that, they jump in and tell me to drive down to the Cuddie Club in the village. "When they get out, they pay me, give me a buck up, and ask me to come inside and join them in a few drinks. Well, they're very tough boys and I don't like to refuse, and so it goes the rest of the night—joint after joint—and by the time it's morning, I got 30 of their dollars in my pocket and I'm plenty high."

"It was all in line of duty," I said. "Why didn't you tell Annie the truth?"

"There's more coming," said Harry. "Presently, the boys find they have run out of cash, but this, of course, is not a serious handicap to such characters and they suggest I drive them back to the Cuddie Club. I get an idea of what's coming and beg them to take back their 30 bucks, but they say no. I'm a working man and need the money and, besides, they think too much of Annie to play her a dirty trick like that."

"When we get to the club, Cassell goes in and Gurkenheimer stays outside to make sure I keep the money running, and pretty soon Cassell comes running out with a bunch of bills in one hand and a pistol in the other, and I commence going around corners on two wheels like I see them do in the movies. Cassell says, 'It's too bad I had to conk the bartender, but he wasn't acting cooperative.'"

"This gets more serious," I said. "There's more," said Harry. "Gurkenheimer suddenly remembers a girl named Mabel who lives on 39th street and who can always dig up a bottle for a pal."

"Please, leave me out of this," I say to them. "I'm a married man and you know Annie."

"We know Annie," says Cassell, "and if you're gonna face up to her, you need another drink."

This time they tip me two bucks and drag me up to the apartment. Mabel makes everybody welcome, and so does her roommate Gladys, and so does their roommate Marge, and to be so-called I have a few drinks with them.

"You start with a little lie," I said, "then it's a drinking bout, then it's a robbery and aimed assault, and now..."

"There's more," said Harry. "When I finally get home, I tell Annie about the repair truck and hand her the night's take, and I must say she gives me no lip—dough and dame trouble, as you know, seldom go together. But when I wake up the following peevem, it is all over the front pages how the barkeep at the Cuddie Club was killed in a stick-up, and it looks like maybe my friend Cassell, doesn't know his own strength."

"So now it's murder you're involved in," I said.

"They catch Al and Eddie," said the hackie, "which isn't too hard, seeing as how they've left a trail all over town, but I must say my old school buddies cover up for me pretty good. They tell the cops how they forced me with a gun to wait outside, and the story is believed, which is strange, seeing as how it is practically the truth."

"Well, then," I said, "what are you worried about?"

"I'm okay with the cops," said Harry, "but I'm scared of Annie. Next week the case will come up in court and it's a cinch the papers will print every detail about what went on the night of the murder. Annie will believe the stuff about the old pals, and she will believe I was forced into the stickup. But when I testify I was forced to go along to Mabel's apartment—that, no dame would believe."

"Tell Annie," I said, "that an English writer named DeQuincey once wrote that murder leads to theft, and theft to deceit."

"It won't work," said the Plato of the pavements. "Like most dames, Annie is a great one for readin'! But not books. Only minds."

Masons Ask Used Electric Razors For Disabled Vets

The Masons of New York state are starting their second annual drive to collect used electric razors on July 2, it is made known by Bradford Butler, newly elected Commander-General of the Masonic War Veterans. The drive will close July 23. The razors are to be sent to a collection depot set up by Captain Maurice M. Witherspoon, U.S.N. (Ret.) ChC, Adjutant-General of the organization, at the Masonic Temple, 71 West 23rd street, New York.

"Used electric razors are needed in any state of repair," Capt. Witherspoon stated. "All are returned to the manufacturers, who repair them or replace them with new ones. Then the razors are distributed in veterans' hospitals throughout the state, to veterans who would not otherwise be able to shave themselves."

Distribution of the razors is based solely on the need for them and without regard for race, color or creed, it was explained. Further, Veterans who are blind, maimed or mentally disturbed have first call on the razors, which are distributed through a corps of veterans hospital visitors maintained by the Masons in several areas throughout the state. "Hospital authorities tell us that the improvement in morale when a veteran is able to perform the personal service of shaving himself is tremendous," Captain Witherspoon added. "So far, we have distributed almost 2,000 electric razors to hospitalized veterans, but many more are urgently needed."

Couple Plans Wedding In Plane; Pilot Attends

Bloomburg, Pa., July 1 (AP)—A truck driver and his sweetheart are planning to take their nuptial vows in an airplane tomorrow with the pilot doubling as best man.

The bridegroom-to-be is Allen Halman. His fiancée is Grace

Russell, a beautician at the Norristown, Pa., State Hospital.

Jack Laubach of Bloomsburg will be the best man-pilot.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Henry Hopkins, pastor of the Riverside, Pa., Methodist Church, who has never been up in a plane and hopes to take a spin before the ceremony.

That business of the pilot being best man has Mr. Hopkins a little worried. "He'd better keep his eye on the road," commented the clergyman when told of the plan.

Phoenicia Hotel Case Dismissed; No Legal Grounds

Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein has dismissed a suit in which Blagio Cassese sought to obtain possession of the Phoenicia Hotel.

Granting a motion for a summary judgment which was made by the defendants, Louise Cassese and Arthur B. Ewig, executors, Judge Bookstein ruled an oral agreement which Cassese claimed was made between him and his mother was not legal grounds for an action since it was not mentioned when the mother applied for a liquor license on the premises, consisting of a hotel, restaurant and grill in the village of Phoenicia.

Cassese had brought action, claiming that he advanced $2,000, representing the entire purchase price above mortgages for the hotel, plus a quantity of merchandise, to his mother. Because of this advance, he claimed, his mother, while taking ownership, did so with the oral understanding that the property would be held in trust for him.

Under the terms of his mother's will, the property was left to Cassese's sisters, Louise Cassese and Mrs. Marcelene Murphy. Cassese brought action to impress the oral trust, but Judge Bookstein ruled in favor of the defendants on the grounds that such an oral trust, if made, was contrary to public policy in that "the deceased did apply for and obtain a license as the true and sole owner of the property and the business in question and that plaintiff knew or at least is chargeable with the knowledge of that fact. Under such circumstances, he is barred from maintaining this action."

Cashin and Ewig, law firm of this city, represented the defendants.

MacArthur Says Birth Control Personal Thing

Tokyo, July 1 (AP)—General MacArthur today said the controversial question of birth control in Japan was a matter "for individual judgment and decision."

He added that he is "not engaged in any study or consideration of the problem of Japanese population control."

His statement was in the form of a memorandum to the Allied Catholic Women's Club of Tokyo. The club had protested a recent report of Dr. Warren S. Thompson that birth control was the only way to meet the population problem. Thompson formerly was technical adviser in MacArthur's natural resources section. MacArthur emphasized that Thompson's views were an individual opinion.

W.A.A. Ends Business
Washington, July 1 (AP)—The government closed up shop today on what once was the nation's biggest bargain counter. The War Assets Administration went out of business after handling disposal of surplus war property with an original price tag of $27,000,000, 000 during its often hectic four-year existence. Final agency records showed a return to the treasury of about $4,250,000,000 from W.A.A. transactions. That's about 22 cents received for every dollar spent on the mountains of combat-essential commodities and properties which ranged from multi-million dollar war plants to canned beef.

Kansas produces almost twice as much wheat as any other state in the union.

Correct Play Nets Seven-Odd Here

Serving as chairman of a committee in any club is not an easy job. We at the New York Athletic Club are fortunate in having Richard E. Long as chairman of our card committee.

Long was raised in Ohio. At Ohio Northern University he played center on the basketball team and was in the backfield on the football team. He won a scholarship which brought him to New York. He was a member of our basketball team at the club for seven years. In the Navy from 1942 to 1946, Dick was in the South Pacific as skipper on one of our submarine chasers, and came out of the Navy a lieutenant commander. Now he is with a life insurance company. He now holds the individual championship at the club.

Dick won himself a top score in the individual tournament with today's hand. When South opened the bidding with two no trump, Dick thought he was bluffing because he is a notorious psychic bluffer. Of course, when East went to four spades, South could not be blamed for taking a crack at it.

It is an interesting hand to play for the maximum. Dick ruffed the jack of diamonds in the ace of spades in dummy and immediately led the king of clubs. South put on the ace and Dick trumped. Another diamond was ruffed.

The ten of spades was led from dummy, and when South played low, Dick was careful to play the eight of spades. He then played the queen and jack of clubs, discarding two hearts. The ten of clubs was led, South trumped with the king and Dick overtrumped. A diamond was ruffed in dummy—thereby making seven-odd.

U. S. Quits Korea

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The United States has withdrawn its army forces from Korea in accordance with a United Nations resolution. The army announced last night that only a military advisory group remains in the country. It is headed by Brig. Gen. William L. Roberts. A United Nations resolution of last December 12 recommended that the occupying powers—the U. S. and Russia—withdraw their forces "as early as practicable." Russia claimed to have pulled out all Red Army troops by the end of last year. But the Soviets have refused to permit a United Nations commission to enter North Korea to verify this.

Gold Certificates Found on Dump

Westfield, N. J., July 1 (AP)—If you poked around in a Scotch Plains dump this week you might have come up with a number of federal gold certificates.

Three banks reported to police and Federal Reserve Bank officials that several persons attempted to cash the notes, illegal to hold or circulate since 1933. The holders of the certificates said they found them in the Scotch Plains dump. Police said they believed the certificates had been dumped there along with other trash picked up by a scavenger after an auction in the home of Mrs.

Hornee Dunnington of Scotch Plains. Secret Service officials in Newark said yesterday the agency had been notified of the gold note finds, but that preliminary investigations would be up to local police. Officials of the National Bank of Westfield reported that "three or four men" had brought ten $20 certificates there Wednesday and surrendered them for a receipt. The notes then were forwarded to the Federal Reserve Bank in Newark for checking.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., July 1—Whether we maintain a healthy, competitive free economy or drift toward a great white fatherly state will not be decided in Washington. It is being decided at the crossroads of your town and mine—today! Hence, this is my July fourth message.

The business of freedom of enterprise is your business and mine. Every so often, I hear an industrial bigwig tell our youth that there are no longer the frontiers there were in his day. The success—and fortune—they say, are things of the past. This I do not believe, but too many of our youth do. For example, a college junior was given the opportunity to learn whole of a lot about merchandising during his three-month summer vacation selling on commission for a nationally reputable concern. He was guaranteed one hundred dollars per month, plus transportation, room and board. His reaction: "I better join the 52-20 Club. I could get $30 a month from that and live at home with my folks, and I wouldn't have to do anything!"

Chaps like these, both industrialists and students, are to be found at the crossroads in your town and mine. I am concerned about them because, if their intentions are good, their preparation for economic life in our competitive free economy is faulty.

Our Kids and Our Economy I was severely jolted the other day when an associate of mine spoke before a young people's assembly. He tried to find a point of departure so the youngsters would know what he was talking about. He asked how many remembered the last business depression. Not a hand was raised. He asked how many could tell him what happened in 1937, no one! For them life began with Pearl Harbor. They know not for what July fourth, is celebrated.

Here, then, are kids who grew up under a war economy. Everything has been assured them. The generation before grew up under N.R.A. and C.C.C., and then escaped into the arms of the armed forces. Has our youth lost touch with the things that made America great? Our government should not over-emphasize "Security" for the individual. Instead, opportunity should be promised. From what I hear of the other side of the ocean, these who seek security usually wake up within the "Security" of a heavy iron curtain! It takes immeasurably more sweat, toil, tears, courage, and character to remain free than to become a slave.

Educating for Freedom Labor circles, left wing groups, and the like, are all telling their story. Whom do industrialists groom to speak for management at conventions, high schools, on the radio, at the Parent-Teachers Association? These are the golden opportunities to educate at the grass roots. The busy businessman has too long muffed this chance to educate for opportunities. Hence, several huge corporations I know have recently set up new Public Relations Departments to try to recoup their positions in this 11th hour.

When I graduated from college there was but one automobile for every 9,500 people in the United States. Today, every five people have an automobile. Then, 95 per cent of all American families have radios! This was made possible not by promising security but by promising opportunity. America became great by an ever-present awareness of our spiritual and moral heritage. July fourth celebrates the spiritual belief in the individual and a realization that each of us has not only rights but also has responsibilities.

Higher Taxes Not Needed All President Truman needs to balance the Federal budget is to assure more freedom and less security—to youth, wage-workers and employers. Then initiative will return, employment will increase, stock markets will rise and once again the Federal Government will have a surplus without any tax increases.

Stevedores Refuse

Honolulu, July 1 (AP)—Honolulu stevedores overwhelmingly turned down a plan for ending Hawaii's crippling waterfront strike yesterday. Their comrades elsewhere in the islands are expected to follow suit today. The peace plan, advanced hopefully by a fact-finding board and accepted reluctantly by employers, was batted down 52 to 59. The board proposed a raise of 4 cents an hour. The workers in striking 62 days ago demanded 32 cents on top of their current hourly wage of $1.50.

The new agency will have a $75,000,000 general supply fund to do its buying.

New Agency Gets Mass Purchasing Function for U. S.

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The government put a new agency to work today at mass purchasing for most federal bureaus, in a move to save money.

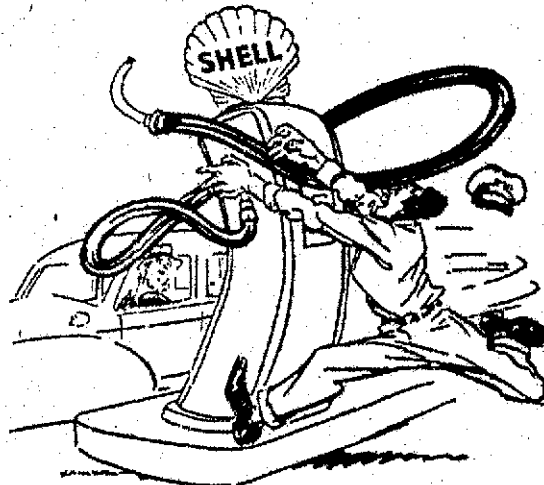

It was suggested as an economy step in the government reorganization plan of the Bipartisan Commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

Congress finished legislation setting up the new General Services Administration yesterday and President Truman quickly signed the bill into law.

At its head Mr. Truman placed a former army colonel and Oklahoma lawyer, Jess Larson.

Larson has been serving as federal works administrator. But before that he was Uncle Sam's biggest merchandise salesman, disposing of billions of dollars worth of surplus government property as war assets administrator.

His nomination for the job of general services administrator was due to go to the Senate today. His duties would be to handle property management and buying for a group of major agencies, including the Federal Works Agency, Public Buildings Administration, Bureau of Public Roads, National Archives, and Bureau of Federal Supply. Some government departments, like the military, will continue to do their own buying and housekeeping chores. In selecting Larson President Truman asked him to see that small business gets a "fair share" of government contracts. The new agency will have a $75,000,000 general supply fund to do its buying.

There was no immediate reply from the union.

Asphalt Workers Can't Wear Union Pins; Leave Jobs

Ten men employed by the Lansell Company, Inc., of 57 Teller street, were off the job today because the management of the company, which applies hot asphalt road materials, objected to the men wearing union buttons, George E. Yerry, Jr., local labor representative, states.

During the past few days the employees of the Lansell Company numbering five drivers and five helpers, have become affiliated with Teamsters Local No. 445, and are now full fledged members of the union.

The morning the men appeared for work with the buttons of their local on their clothing. Anthony Braden, representing the men, approached the management of the company and informed the management that the men had organized and become members of the Teamsters Local No. 445, speaking for Braden, said no demands of any kind have been made on the management.

When the management learned the men were wearing the union buttons, Yerry said, the manager, Lester Slagg, objected to the men wearing the buttons and informed them they would have to take them off or leave the job. The men declined to remove the buttons and left the job, Braden said.

Yerry stated that the entire controversy came over the right of the men to wear the button of their union and he said this right would be protected. He indicated that the A.P. of L. will support the right of the men to wear union buttons and will take such action as necessary to let the company know of the intention of the men to continue to wear the union button.

"The men, being members of the Teamsters Local, have the same right to wear a union button indicating their membership in the union as has the management to display a Chamber of Commerce sign. Indicating the company is a member of that organization," said Yerry.

Braden said that when the men declined to take off the union button and left the job, one of the trucks was taken out by Slagg. Should the controversy continue, it was indicated that union jobs in the Lansell products would probably decline to be served by the company, until the dispute is settled. The product of the company is used on highway jobs.

Smith and County Investigator Clayton Vandenberg on a bench warrant charging abandonment. The warrant was signed by County Judge John M. and Whearty "want to break me, but I will never break."

She then told Judge Reeves that she does not think she got a fair trial here. She added that she hopes "to get a fair trial" in New York where she and Valerie A. Gubitchev, a Russian, face trial July 11 on the conspiracy charges.

Her association with Gubitchev, Russian engineer on the staff of the United Nations, was part of the case of the government case. They were arrested together in New York March 4. Federal agents said they found Miss Coplon's pocketbook filled with government secrets on subversion, and counter espionage.

Miss Coplon complained that the press had pictured her as hysterical at times during her long appearance on the witness stand. She insisted that she never was hysterical, "and I'll never be hysterical."

Slovakian Riots

partisan activity were persistent. These reports said the anti-Communists called themselves "Janoskovi," after Janosik, the Slovak "Robin Hood." Slovakia was said to have started when the Catholics organized to protect their priests from arrest. These volunteer protective bands clashed with the police in various towns.

Slovakia, according to church pastoral letters, has been the main target of Communist persecution. There the monasteries have been closed, priests kidnapped and executed and other repressive measures have been farthest advanced.

This also has produced renewed animosity among the Slovaks toward the Czechs. Recently a bus-load of Czech tourists was stoned and cursed by Slovaks who accused the visitors of selling out to the Communists in the church-state strife.

Ford Company...

have followed a pattern in union contracts.

G.M.'s wage rates are tied up for another year. They are geared to the cost of living under the two-year agreement signed last spring. Meanwhile, the U.A.W. is polling its Ford members on a strike over the combined pension-insurance and economic compensation for the Ford ended less than a month ago.

Ford Local 600, the 65,000-man Rouge unit, votes tomorrow. One small local already has reported a 3 to 1 vote for a strike. The Ford-U.A.W. contract expires July 15.

The strike vote is part of the union's bargaining technique. An affirmative vote gives the union's leadership the authority to call a walkout.

predicted that Berlin's financial woes would be ultimately presented to the three western military governors for relief.

Since Russia and the western powers introduced rival German currencies in Berlin June 24, 1948, economic complications for the average citizen have steadily increased.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 1 (AP)—Demand for stocks perked up today after the market got off to a sleepy start.

Gains ranged from fractions to more than a point. Many issues which had drifted into minus territory at the outset later moved up a bit.

Trading during the first hour dwelled along uneventfully. Volume soon expanded, though, and the market broadened to include more individual issues than in the preceding couple of sessions.

Today's rise was the latest step in a recovery that started immediately after the general price level tumbled to a 44-year low on June 13. The recovery, however, has not had the benefit of broad public participation, a fact which many observers believe may turn out to be a fatal lack.

Higher prices were paid for American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, Phelps Dodge, General Electric, Dow Chemical, Johnson & Johnson, U. S. Gypsum, Twin Coach, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, N. Y. Central, Nickel Plate, Richfield Oil, Phillips Petroleum, and Transcontinental & Western Air.

Corporate bonds tended higher. U. S. governments maintained the sharp gains scored earlier this week.

Marked up in the curb were Sherwin-Williams, United Gas, Valspar Corp., Waltham Watch, Humble Oil, Niagara Hudson Power, Pennroad, Salt Dome Oil, Pioneer Gold, American Gas, Arkansas Natural Gas, Babcock & Wilcox, Bethlehem Steel, Cities Service, Croile Petroleum, and Electric Bond & Share. Among the few losers were Atlas Powder, Consolidated Mining, and National Union Radio.

Employment Hits Close to 60 Millions

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The June wave of school-age youths seeking jobs boosted unemployment to a seven-year high of 3,778,000.

Reporting this today, the Census Bureau said two of three of the new job-hunters managed to find work. So the number of employed also rose, reaching 59,619,000. This is tops so far for 1949 and barely below the one-time goal of "sixty million jobs."

Compared with May, these were the basic changes in June:

The labor force increased by 1,415,000, employment went up 925,000 and unemployment increased 489,000.

The June total of jobless was the greatest since the 4,000,0

Gehrig Resigns Nassau Position

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—James N. Gehrig resigned yesterday as Nassau county district attorney and Governor Dewey appointed Frank A. Gulletta to succeed him.

Gulletta, 42, has been assistant district attorney since Jan. 1, 1938. He lives in Lynbrook. He will serve until Dec. 31, under the appointment and will run for a full term in the elections next November.

Gehrig, of Hempstead, was elected district attorney in 1945 and reelected in 1948.

In Garden City, the Nassau County Republican Committee nominated Gehrig last night to run for judge of the Children's Court, a new office established by the last session of the State Legislature.

Roosters Help Fishermen

Hobart, Tasmania, (AP)—You have to know your dogs and roosters to go fishing off the south-east coast of Tasmania. They help you to thread your way through reefs close to shore. D. V. Button told about the helpful dogs and roosters at a Returned Soldiers League Congress. He asked the Congress to campaign for small lighthouses on the Tasmanian coast. He said that if fisherman knew the bark of Bill Jones' dog, and the crowing of a few roosters, then they knew where the reefs were. Another speaker told how the war veterans came into the problem. The trouble he said, is that young ex-servicemen fishermen do not know which dog is which.

Appointments Approved

Hartford, Conn., July 1 (AP)—The appointments of John P. Knox and Richard T. Davis, both Democrats, as judges of the Town Court of Greenwich, were announced today by Governor Chester Bowles. The Greenwich appointments were among a large group made by the Democratic chief executive to the state's 69 minor courts. Many of the Republican incumbents, at a meeting here tonight, voted to contest the legality of the governor's action.

Middletown Girl Elected

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Mary Zoghby of Middletown takes office today as governor of Empire Girls' State. The oath was to be administered in the capitol by Miss Ruth M. Miner, executive deputy secretary of state. Governor Dewey was scheduled to address the 260 teen-age delegates. Mock Senate and Assembly sessions were on the agenda. Miss Zoghby, Nationalist candidate, defeated Jean Howard of Bouckville, a Federalist, in balloting by the delegates yesterday. Voting figures were not disclosed.

Do You Remember

by
SOPHIE MILLER

An uptown lawyer brought me a little 1920 pocket booklet put out by the Waltham Watch Co. (makers of the Waltham speedometer and automobile clocks) for their retail dealer, C. V. L. Pitts & Sons, jewelers of 314 Wall street, Kingston. This little booklet besides advertising the Waltham watch is filled with puzzles, code writing, calculating tricks so popular in those days. I remember Patrick H. Cullen, principal of No. 3 school used to have many such quick questions in his arithmetic class as, "If a chicken stands on one leg and weighs 4 lbs. how much does she weight standing on both legs?" Some how he was always lucky to catch someone off guard with the "wrong answer."

Just talked to Mr. Gollner as his father painted the first Kingston ambulance back in 1888 in the days of the horse-age. He also told me that the fire engines were painted by his father and they had some fancy intricate scroll work which all had to be done by hand. That of course was before the days of the paint and spray guns. The John Gollner & Son firm of Foxhall avenue started in business back in 1876 when scroll work on carriages was a work of art. I wonder if someday new cars won't suddenly take a sharp turn from streamlining to fancy designs in paint jobs. Take for instance, garlands of roses on a green car, or morning glories entwining around a yellow car. One never knows what the future holds in the transportation world.

Remember the days of the electric curling irons, or back further when one heated them on the gas light in the days of flat irons on a coal stove. They went out with the incoming of the permanent, and now the home permanent is popular. Following was sent to me from "The Leader" of November 8, 1900—The number of young men in Kingston who curl their hair with curling irons is surprisingly large. Some of the men also use the curling iron to turn up the ends of their mustaches and keep them in place.

Rondout was in the midst of a building boom back in 1888. By November 1st of that year it was expected that the Canfield and Stephan building on Union avenue (Broadway) opposite the Mansion House (corner Strand) would be completed. A. Rice had leased their previous store to open with a variety store on November 15. A. & J. Eschbuck, Jr.'s new store on the Strand was completed on October of 1888 and it was said to be a handsome structure. It is now run by Eugene Fowler and his son-in-law, Jimmy Keith. Another new building was Sahler, Reynolds & Webster's at the Strand and Ferry street. Who ran the paint and oil store which was built around that time at corner of Union avenue and Pierpont street? Would that be where Parish had their livery stable and later was made into a garage?

From Mrs. E.G.E.'s, Argus Newspaper of 1907 printed in Kingston of which Mrs. Clara Norton Reed was society editor, I see, L. B. Van Wageningen Co's Kingston and Rondout store sold very stylish jet collars for $1.98. You could walk into Sam Bern-just made a deceptive hullabaloo and seemed to do so. If he wanted to say Hiss was a man of high character and obvious loyalty he could have said it in a few words. I could. Anybody could. Instead this learned man chewed up a lot of language and ducked the issue. He didn't do that because he was inarticulate but because he planned it that way.

Unfortunately, and Roosevelt would have it so, our federal courts have lost much of the respect, amounting to awe, which they used to command even when we had some pretty cynical corporation people on the bench here and there. But the cynics were only here and there. Nowadays there are so many New Deal judges that at a citizen who has put his head up in opposition reasonably feels that he can't expect a fair trial.

I think that in this trial not only Hiss but the Frankfurter cult, as a political force of great power but without substance, is on trial, too. The Roosevelt administration is on trial, and the Roosevelt myth. President Truman is on trial with respect to his "Red-herring" defense of his administration, including Alger Hiss.

This case called for the most open and honest demonstration of sincerity that the Department of Justice was capable of. Instead, not even Mr. Thomas Murphy, the prosecuting attorney and a government officer, was able to tell me, when I asked him directly, how it happened that this case was assigned to Judge Kaufman for trial.

The court should have assigned the most distinguished and the least political judge available in the country to try Alger Hiss. Judge Kaufman does not meet those specifications. As proof of its honesty, the Department of Justice should have put the prosecution in the hands of the best man who could be found. Mousing no disparagement of Mr. Murphy, I assert that he falls short of this standard.

As to the influence of printed remarks on the jury I say Judge Kaufman might better have taken judicial notice of the prejudicial remarks published by Eleanor Roosevelt on June 8 which added up to a public confession that Hiss was innocent because, in her dogmatic and motivated opinion, the principal witness against him was incredible. To many citizens Mrs. Roosevelt is a female mahatma, the relic of a god foregone to Vallhalla, and just a little less than holy herself. Her remarks would be more likely to be prejudicial than mine or Sokolsky's. I believe she knew this and that that was the reason why she printed them. Allocation Approved

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—An initial allocation of $694,078 for the New York City Youth Board has been approved by the State Youth Commission. It will be used primarily in 11 areas with high delinquency rates.

FRIENDS gather, look over that long bonnet and wish they had as much Fireball life as you have here.

They size up the broad windshield and narrow corner posts — and don't have to be told how these things step up "see-power."

They appraise the smart styling, the roomy interiors, the usability of luggage space — and agree you've made a buy.

But don't stop, please, with letting them look. Invite them in and introduce them to some of the special pleasures you'll know as a Buick owner.

Show them, for instance, how completely different Dynaflo Drive is, with every mile cushioned by flowing oil and none of the rigid harshness of direct-drive cars.

Let them sample the matchless Buick ride, with all four wheels cradled on soft, coil springs and low-pressure tires made still easier-riding by extra-wide rims.

Point out how solid this Buick feels. That's what you get from husky frames, low-sprung weight, and power delivered through a torque-tube instead of the rear springs.

For the truth is, this Buick's a bargain on much, much more than you can see.

It's a big buy on the solid goodness a demonstration quickly makes plain. On increasingly favorable delivery dates. On attractive price. On the kind of "deal" your Buick dealer makes.

That's why we keep saying "Better see your Buick dealer — and get that order in promptly!"

BUICK alone has all these features

Silk-smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area • SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions • Buoyant-riding QUADRUFLUX COIL SPRINGING • Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-THROTTLE POWER with SELF-SETTING VALVE LIFTERS plus HI-POISED ENGINE MOUNTINGS • Low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • Cruiser-Line VENTIPORTS • DUREX BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • BODY BY FISHER

Boys Consider Measures

Hamilton, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—The Senate and Assembly of the Empire State Legislature today on 21 proposed measures. Among the bills before the legislature are measures to increase teachers' salaries, establish a state university and require automobile driver training for high school students. They were introduced yesterday in the mythical state, sponsored by the American Legion at Colgate University. The Nationalist party, headed by Governor Harry Warr of Penn. Yan, holds a substantial majority in the Assembly. The rival Federalists hold half of the 88 Senate seats. The program ends Friday.

Kingston Playhouse Committee Reports

The Kingston committee of the Woodstock Playhouse met with Michael Linenthal Monday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Schedules of the various summer theatres were discussed and the committee were of the unanimous opinion that Mr. Linenthal's selection of plays for this season were praiseworthy.

Committees have been formed throughout the Hudson Valley for the purpose of aiding the Woodstock Playhouse to remain one of the best along the "straw hat trail."

Block tickets are being sold by the committee. The block ticket enables one to enjoy five plays for the price of four, every night excepting benefit performances.

Students in grades 4 to 12 who still desire to study instrumental music in summer school may register next Tuesday morning at Kingston High School auditorium when the classes will begin. Those who have not already registered are asked to come according to the schedule, beginners, 8 to 9 a. m.; intermediates, 9 to 10 a. m.; advanced students, 10 to 11 o'clock. Students who do not know in which classification they belong are asked to register some time Tuesday morning and the instructors will assign them to the proper periods.

Arrangements for renting instruments will be made with the Empire Musical Instrument Renting Company of Spruett and further details may be obtained from Harry Eberlin, orchestra instructor or Marlin Morvett, band instructor.

Footlighters Announce Choice of Comedy For Fall Production; Castings Take Place Soon

The Footlighters at their regular meeting Tuesday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel chose a three act comedy, "The Male Animal," by James Thurber and Elliott Nugent for their fall production. This comedy consists of 13 characters, eight men and five women, and was a smash hit on Broadway with Elliott Nugent in the leading role.

The New York Times reported that the play "dismisses one from the theatre in a spirit of dazed hilarity." Critics named it a laughable cartoon with enough truth in it to make it sting.

All those interested may read for the casting July 12 at 8 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel. In addition to weekly attendances at the Woodstock Playhouse, Maverick theatre, the Footlighters also attend plays at Cragmoor, Stockbridge, Fishkill, and Malden Bridge. This local little theatre group has not disbanded for the summer because of the members' eagerness to study different plays at the various summer theatres.

The workshop group will immediately form its plans and committees for the next production.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

MISTAKEN IDENTITY
This is a problem: I've just received a thank you note for a wedding present that I didn't send. But to complicate matters it is from the bride, a stranger to me, of a man with whom I am no longer friendly. I not only did not send the gift she mentions, but I sent none. Furthermore, I have no intention of sending one. If you know the answer I surely would appreciate knowing it.

Simply write and say, "I am very sorry, but evidently someone with a name that looks like mine sent you a present and is probably waiting to be thanked."

Hand or Send Tickets
Dear Mrs. Post: I have the tickets to our club dance. I've asked a boy to go with me. Don't you think it might be less awkward to send these to him ahead of time instead of handing them to him the evening he calls for me?

Answer: It should not be awkward to hand him tickets when you are hostess. In fact, sending them, as you suggest, might result in his forgetting them.

A Purely Commercial Idea
Dear Mrs. Post: Has there been a recent change? I don't know and am a bit confused. In one of your recent answers I noticed you mentioned the first wedding anniversary year as the paper year. According to the 1949 World Almanac that has been changed to clocks. Is there an explanation?

Answer: There has been a movement, which I personally resent, to change all early anniversary years from items of very slight cost to those of greatly increased value. I can only answer that paper for the first anniversary of marriage has been standard for more years than anyone now living can possibly remember.

Host Gives Order
Dear Mrs. Post: When two couples are dining out and one of the men is the host, should he give the order for all four to the waiter? Is there some best way to handle this and if so will you explain in detail?

Answer: The host gives the order for all.

How are your manners in public? Mrs. Post gives some important rules to follow in her leaflet, E-15. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Gemmell, Sr., 19 West Union street, Sunday, June 26, at 2 p. m. in Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. William R. Peckham, pastor.

Mrs. Raymond Ingersoll was organist. Miss Joan Wells sang "Because, I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." The church was decorated with candles.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Fred Markle. She wore a white marquisette gown made with long sleeves, high neckline trimmed with traditional seed pearls, skirt with bustle back. She also wore a fingertip veil with coronet of seed pearls and carried a bouquet of camellias.

Walter S. Gemmell, Jr., was best man for his brother. Ushers were Charles Naccarato, Jr., and Jesse B. Chambers, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom.

A reception for 120 guests was held at the Krazy Tavern. Mr. and Mrs. Gemmell left for a wedding trip to New York and Caymane, Pa. She wore an orchid two piece suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Gemmell will reside with the bridegroom's parents.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of '46. He also attended Kingston High School and served as a sergeant in the army in 1945 and 1946. Both are employed at Thomson's Laundry.

signed copy brought here?" asked Rosenberg.

McMahon said he could, adding that he wanted it made clear that the bringing of the papers here is at the direction of McMahon and his counsel. I want to keep my promise.

Rosenberg said the request was by the defendant and himself. Questioning brought out that McMahon took statements from both Fernandez and Mrs. Beck on March 1 and 2, following their arrest on charges of killing Mrs. Dolphine Downing, a Byron Center, Mich., widow, and her infant daughter.

The prosecution here claims the statements pertained to the slaying of Mrs. Fay on Jan. 4 in Valley Stream, N. Y. Mrs. Fay's body was found buried in a Queens basement after the pair's arrest in Michigan.

Holiday Traffic Rush Is Underway

North and west-bound holiday traffic to mountain resorts and up-state New York was noticeable on area highways as early as 11:40 a. m. today, police sources said, and the rush is expected to reach a peak between late afternoon and early evening.

Area bus and train travel was on the increase and one local bus company said that runs this morning carried as many as ten extra sections out of New York and may reach from 20 to 25 by tonight.

Local and state police are prepared to handle the heavy holiday flow over the main arteries of travel and Police Chief Raymond Van Buren said three extra men will be placed on special traffic duty during the rush to and from the area.

Special patrolmen will be on duty at the Rondout creek bridge, Broadway and East Chester street and at Hasbrouck avenue and East Chester street to handle through traffic, the chief said.

Local police headquarters was informed this morning that traffic was noticeably on the increase at the Mid-Hudson bridge at about 11:40 a. m. and all police units were expecting steady lines on the main routes by 2 p. m.

The state police at Lake Katrine also reported an increased flow over upper Route 9-W shortly before noon.

McKever, Colonials' Rookie Southpaw, Stops Bristol Owls in Debut, 2-1

St. Lawrence U. Alumnus Scores Over Coleman in Brilliant Duel

Wiltwyck Motors Nip Colonial Merchants, 3-2

William D. "Bill" McKever, 20-year-old St. Lawrence University pitching alumnus who joined the Colonials early this week, made a spectacular Colonial League debut last night in Bristol when he won a brilliant 2-1 decision over Guy Coleman as the Colonials extended their winning streak to three straight and went into a virtual tie with the Poughkeepsie Chiefs for fifth place.

All the runs were scored in the ninth inning, Kingston counting twice on hits by Frank Granato and Eddie McNamara, while pitcher Coleman drove in a run to avert a Bristol shutout. The setback was Coleman's fourth in twelve decisions.

Makes Spectacular Debut

Boyish-looking, 20-year-old William D. "Bill" McKever, who was graduated from St. Lawrence University early this month, pitched and won his first game for the Kingston Colonials last night in Bristol. McKever out-dueled Bristol's famous Guy Coleman, 2 to 1, in a game in which all runs were scored in the ninth. He permitted only five hits and was reported sharp and fast. (Freeman Photo)

Speculate on Merger Of Pro Basketball Leagues

Chicago, July 1 (AP)—Officials of the National Basketball League and the rival Basketball Association of America were slated to hold separate meetings here today amid rumors that the two might merge.

Ike Duffey, N.B.A. president, said in Indianapolis last night, the merger of the two leagues was "within the realm of possibility."

In Washington last week it was reported after a meeting of A.A.A. owners that they were ready to abandon the league after next season if they continue to lose money. Later, however, some of the league owners said they had not heard of any plans for abandonment.

Colonial Roundup

(By The Associated Press)

The Waterbury Times, paced by Leo Eastham with two home runs, defeated the Poughkeepsie Chiefs 8 to 5 in a Colonial League baseball game here last night. For the second night in succession the Times' big first baseman's lugging was the deciding factor in the game. He powered one for the circuit with one on in the first inning and the Times led from there on.

In another league contest the Stamford Pioneers cut the league leading Bridgeport Bees down to two, winning 8 to 6.

Impresses Scribes

Bristol observers who had never heard of McKever (and Kingston fans haven't seen him yet) described the St. Lawrence southpaw thusly:

"He looks like a 12-year-old boy out there on the mound but he is plenty sharp and fast and should help your club immensely."

The two crack southpaws knocked off the game in 1.55 and were locked in a scoreless duel at the end of the eighth, when Ralph Matzer launched Kingston's ninth with a walk. Gerald Murray fanned but Frank Granato lashed a double to left center scoring Matzer for a 1-0 lead.

Eddie McNamara drilled a single to right center and Granato romped across with what eventually proved to be the winning marker.

"Bristol" rallied desperately in the ninth when Gazzoza led off with a single. La France sacrificed and Coleman drove him home with a one timer. But Coleman stayed right on first base while McKever disposed of the rugged Carlos Bernier and Berie on routine chances.

Shows Good Control

In giving the Colonials their third straight route-going performance by a southpaw, McKever displayed a live fast ball and exceptional control. He walked only two and struck out five. Coleman, one of the pitching titans of the loop, matched McKever in singleness with five safeties, walked four and struck out eight.

Frank Granato was the only player on either team to collect more than one hit, with a double and single.

The Colonials close out their road trip tonight in Waterbury and then return to Kingston for an extensive week-end stand against Bristol and Poughkeepsie. The Owls are here Saturday for a single game and a doubleheader on Sunday. The Poughkeepsie Chiefs are the 4th of July attraction and fireworks also are scheduled that night.

His Only Weakness Blondes—Maybe

Portland, Me., July 1 (AP)—After 60 New England League games Bob Montag of the Pawtucket, R. I., Slayers is hitting .502.

The husky rightfielder from Cincinnati, O., says "It's a constant mental battle with the pitchers."

Bob, who is 24, gives much of the credit for his hitting prowess to Jim "Rip" Collins of the old St. Louis Gas House Gang.

The "Ripper" managed Pawtucket, which is in second place, with a few weeks ago. The parent Boston Braves then promoted him to its Class A Eastern League club at Hartford, Conn.

Ray Robinson's Exhibition Highlights Bridge City Amateur Card Before 3500

World's Welter Champ Thrills Large Crowd

More than 3,500 boxing fans crowded into Riverview Field, Poughkeepsie, Thursday night for the Cancer Fund show, which lacked brilliance except for the exhibition by Ray Robinson, world's welterweight champion, and three sparring partners.

Amateurs from the Metropolitan District of the A.A.U., and several Poughkeepsie Simon Pures, made up the card that was mediocre one in general, but seemed a treat to the Bridge City crowd, probably because the card was the last since last year.

Robinson Outstanding

The park was chock full of celebrities that journeyed to Poughkeepsie at their own expense to add box office appeal to the event sponsored by Edith El Men's Club and prominent citizens of the town, to help the Cancer drive.

Ray Robinson led the parade and to him went credit for most of the night's action. The champ went through six rounds of boxing with three sparring mates and looked almost fit for Kid Gavilan whom he meets on July 12 in a title defense scrap.

Sugar Ray, a master boxer since his days in Kingston as an amateur, displayed the punching power that helped carry him to the heights of stardom, especially against Chicago's celebrated Dale Green, whom he rocked with solid rights twice during their setto.

Once Robinson held the speedy little ringman in a clinch to prevent him from sagging.

Richard Dallas and Al Mobley, two good ringmen in their own right, boxed Robinson during the workout, and he flashed brilliance against these boys whose styles resemble that of Gavilan.

Celebrities Present

George Gainford, Ray's trainer-manager, was pleased with his exhibition. "He's in excellent shape," said the former heavyweight who coached Robinson to a Golden Glove title and then plotted him to the world's championship.

Other ring celebrities on hand for the occasion were Rocky Graziano, who hopes to recapture the middleweight title; Tony Bellone and Joe Baksi. They were introduced by Harry Balogh, former Madison Square Garden announcer, and Sam Taub, famous as a fight-caster, gave a blow by blow account of the Poughkeepsie radio.

Ruby Goldstein, who handles championship matches, and Joe Vordick of Saugerties split the referee assignment.

Jimmy Gripps, Beacon Boxing Baron, who managed Melio Betina when he was light-heavyweight champion, was at the ringside along with a host of others whose names are prominent in the ring sport.

Lou Toffel, who acts as a judge at Kingston amateur bouts, headed the committee that arranged last night's extravaganza.

Ghear's 8th Inning Double Decides Pitching Duel

Bob Ghear's double to center scoring Bob Hunt broke up a tight pitching duel between Ed Rybinaker of the Colonial Merchants and Lew Hesseigule of Wiltwyck Motors, 3 to 2, in favor of Wiltwyck yesterday in an extra inning contest in the City League.

The draw came in the eighth inning after Bill Newkirk had been granted an intentional pass to set up a possible double play.

The victory launched Wiltwyck's second round schedule on a note of triumph and the loss reflected some credit on the Merchants who played brilliantly behind Rybinaker for their best showing in several games.

Resequge Winner

Resequge permitted only four safeties and struck out five, while Rybinaker, workhorse of the loop, yielded five safeties and fanned 10. He made a clean steal of home in the sixth inning to deadlock the score at 2-2 and sent the teams into extra innings.

Wiltwyck's winning rally in the bottom of the eighth started with a walk to Bob Hunt, who promptly stole second. Newkirk who promptly deliberately but the Merchants' strategy went haywire when Ghear rifled his double to center.

Resequge forced in Molly Leonard with a Merchant marker in the first after the sacks were loaded on Leonard's walk and hits by Slover and Rybinaker. In the sixth, Rybinaker walked and completed the circuit via a wild pitch, error and a clean steal.

Wins Ice Cream

The Motorman picked up a cheapie in the third on Resequge's stroll, two wild pitches and a long fly ball. Bob Ghear carted the second run over in the fourth via a single, steal and an

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

By The Associated Press

By JACK HAND

Better check those all-star votes. The name Joe DiMaggio seems to be missing.

If there is any legitimate 100 per cent all-star in the baseball business today, Joe is it. What matter that he missed the first 65 games? On his showing in three ball games, he belongs on the team.

Lou Boudreau, as manager of the American League team in the July 12 all-star game at Brooklyn, has the privilege of naming the rest of his squad after the eight non-pitching starters have been selected by fan vote. He can use the Yankee Clipper, if only as a pinch hitter.

Likely on Squad

When Lou picks his squad, you'll probably find Joltin' Joe right behind the first three outfielders picked by the fans—Ted Williams, Tommy Henrich and brother Dominic DiMaggio. The DiMaggio story of 1949 is familiar to all by this time. How he sat out 65 games, played one exhibition and then catapulted into a starting role at Boston. Joltin' Joe did it again yesterday, crashing a three-run homer in the seventh inning to provide the winning 6-3 margin over the dazed Red Sox. He proved he is human by hitting into a double play, and popping out as well. Also he walked once and was hit by a pitched ball.

Max Fine RBs

For three days, DiMaggio's performance chart read like this: AB R II Pct. 11R RBI PO A E 11 5 5 .455 4 9 13 0 0. His first hit was a single, but the last four have been home runs to the Johnny Mize of the New York Giants for the most home runs by an active player. Each has hit 307.

The Sox were moving fast when they're in fifth place, eight full games back. Regardless of the other contenders, it's Boston the Yankees are keeping their eyes on as they near the halfway mark in the race.

Raschi Wins

Vic Raschi, once a "cogswin" for Boston, earned his second victory of the year over a team he never had beaten until this season. He gave up a dozen hits in a routine going job for his 12th victory. Washington gave the Yankees a little more breathing room by knocking off Philadelphia, 8-6, in the only night game. The loss left the second-place A's 5½ games behind New York.

A four-run rally in the eighth after two were out helped Dick Wack win his first major league game as a pitcher for Joe Mayhew. Dick Fowler was the loser.

Detroit cut loose with a 17-hit attack on Early Wynn and threw other Cleveland pitchers for a 12-6 triumph that moved them into third place ahead of the Tribe.

Card, Brooks Lose

Brooklyn and St. Louis both lost in the National, leaving the Dodgers out front by a full game. The Phils' veteran lefty, Ken Heintzelman, tamed the Dodgers, 4-2, and the Chicago Cubs beat the Cardinals, 12-5, with Hank Edwards hitting two homers, scoring five runs and driving in four.

Bill Voiselle and Glenn Elliott hurled the Boston Braves to a double victory over the Giants, 3-0 and 6-2. Eddie Fletcher's three-run homer off Hank Behrman allowed the tie for Voiselle who allowed four hits.

Pittsburgh bunched three of its four hits off Howie Fox in the sixth inning to shade Cincinnati 2-1. Fox retired the first 13 Pirate batters until Wally Westlake tripled in the fifth.

Chicago and St. Louis were not scheduled in the American.

Bass, Muskie Season Slated to Open Today

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—The fishing season for bass and muskellunge opens today in most New York state waters.

The principal exception is Lake George where the season is slated to open Aug. 1. Fishing for bass and muskellunge has been legal in the St. Lawrence river and in Lake Ontario since June 15. The season continues to Nov. 30 in most areas except Westchester county. There, with the exception of the Hudson river, the limit is 12 inches and five per person or 12 when three or more fishermen are angling from the same boat.

Before World War II, food in the United States was put up in 257 different sizes of cans.

LARCENY AT SECOND BASE

Maury Rickert, Boston Braves outfielder, slides into second base safely with a stolen base in the fourth inning of the game with the New York Giants at New York's Polo Grounds. Shortstop Buddy Kerr jumps to take the throw from Giants' catcher Wes Westrum. Boston won this first game of a doubleheader, 3 to 0.

Ryder Cup Golfers In Special Tuneup

Boston, July 1 (AP)—The U. S. Ryder Cup team will have its final warmup for the international golf matches with the British against an all-star professional group at the nearby Belmont Country Club on Aug. 20-21, a few days before its departure for Europe.

The competition will include foursomes and singles matches.

Convincing Ben Hogan will head the Ryder Cup forces and Byron Nelson will be captain of the opposition.

Hogan will be able to call upon Jimmy Demaret, Lloyd Mangrum, Johnny Palmer, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Stewart (Skip) Alexander, Clayton Heafner and two other stars who will be selected for the international team on July 17.

Nelson has selected Herman Barron, Lew Worsham, Al Bosh, Jack Burke, Jr., and the veteran Gene Sarazen. He will round out his team by selecting the remaining two from the ranks of the New England P.G.A. after it holds its championship tournament at the Menemac Valley Country Club in Melhusen, Mass., on Aug. 1.

More than 125,000 horses are slaughtered for food under federal meat inspection every year. Most of this meat is exported.

New Recruiter

M/Sgt. A. H. McGinnis

Master Sergeant Alvin H. McGinnis, one of the original 14 men assigned to Stewart Field at its inception in 1940, has assumed command of the Kingston Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

He replaces First Sergeant Moir L. Venable who was recently assigned to a post in South Dakota after completion of his four-year tour of duty as a recruiter.

The local recruiting office, in the Central Postoffice Building, will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. All young men and women interested in the new regular army or air force are invited to discuss their plans with the new recruiting sergeant.

Guam Veteran

Sgt. McGinnis, who reenlisted in January, 1940, from the infantry, is a veteran of World War 2. After a course on B-29's at Seattle, Wash., he was sent to Guam in the Pacific with the 1st Marine Division B-29's in combat against the Japanese homeland. He completed 15 missions before the war ended in 1945.

Following the war's end, he was returned to this country and sent to Stewart Field. He transferred to the recruiting service in 1947 and was assigned to Utah where he became public relations officer for the area. His own request was accepted for return to the main recruiting station at Stewart Field.

After reenlisting in 1940 he was assigned to the Air Corps Detachment at West Point and was later transferred to Stewart Field. During the latter part of 1940 he attended the mechanics school at Chanute Field, Ill. and upon graduation returned to Stewart Field in 1941. In June of 1941 Sgt. McGinnis was appointed as engineer on the "Golden Goose," the plane used by Major General Robert L. Eichelberger, superintendent of the military academy.

Likes Kingston

Sgt. McGinnis, who is married to the former Miss Mae R. Innis, says he plans to make Kingston his permanent home upon his retirement in 1955. His wife and two children, Danny LeRoy, 4, and Maitha Mae, 2, expect to join him as soon as suitable living quarters are obtained in Kingston.

Reds Increase Air Services

Moscow (AP)—Soviet airlines have increased their flight schedules from now on one flight daily instead of one flight every other day will depart for Moscow for Vladivostok. Schedules of flights to Yakutsk from Moscow have also been increased. Flight-passenger flights from Moscow to Molotov (formerly Perm) in the northern Ural and to Omsk in Central Siberia have been added to schedules. There will be regular flights to the capital of Armenia, Yerevan, and the Georgian city of Kutaisi from Moscow.

McNeil in Warmup

New York, June 30 (AP)—Don McNeil, seeking to regain the New York state tennis title he lost to Billy Talbot last year, looks a good bet to get past his quarterfinals match today. Second-seeded Don, 1960 national champion from Glen Oaks, N. Y., lacks unseeded Jack Geller of New Rochelle, N. Y., at Forest Hills' Semuole Club. It figures to be a nice warm-up.

Looks to U. S. Aid
Canton, July 1 (AP)—China's government declared today it has a "sovereign right" to close ports held by the Reds and expressed hope the U. S. would help in preventing "any untoward incident." That was the official reply to a U. S. note of Wednesday. The United States refused to recognize as legal the Chinese government order closing ports in Communist hands.

Kiwanis Club Honors K.H.S. Graduates

Vegetable Skins Are Valuable Part Kiwanians Hear

Paul O. Sampson, representing the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Distributors of U. S. and Canada, told members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club Thursday noon that "82 per cent of all ill can be traced to faulty eating."

Sampson, who in the past 42 years has done extensive research in proper use of foods, has traveled widely throughout this country and has addressed more than 8,000 service clubs.

Over $100 millions are spent yearly in the United States for synthetic vitamin tablets," he said, and yet the American people persist in refining foods, thereby losing most of the natural vitamins.

He urged those present never to peel a potato and never to scrape a carrot, for the skins contain the most valuable part of the food. He also warned against the practice of having fruit juice or fruits for an appetizer, for, he said, taking the fruit first hinders the digestive juices. He recommended the use of lemon juice as a salad dressing instead of vinegar.

Sampson said he has followed these rules and others for many years and today feels as though he is growing younger every day, although he is 73 years old. He said, and claimed he said it in all seriousness, that he expects to live to be 150. He added that he hasn't had a head cold or a lung cold in 25 years.

Guests at the regular Kiwanis Club luncheon at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday noon were four Kingston High School graduates who were the recipients of the Kiwanis $200 educational awards.

Those present were Philip W. Metzger, class salutatorian, who said he would continue his education at Union College, Schenectady; Owen Cassidy, who will go to Rutgers; Garrett Short, New York State Teachers College, and Burwell E. Decker, College of Robert Strinley, the other winner of the Kiwanis educational award, was unable to be present. He intends to continue his education at Notre Dame.

Must Look to Russia
Nanking, July 1 (AP)—Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung says Red China "definitely belongs to the anti-revolutionary front headed by Soviet Russia." Furthermore, he declared Communist China can obtain "really friendly help" only from Russia. "It is childish to expect assistance from America, England and other imperialists." These views were contained in the text of a statement he issued yesterday on the occasion of the 28th anniversary of the Chinese Communist party.

Government Drops Credit Controls on Installment Buying

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The terms allowed installment credit buyers are up to the nation's dealers today. The government has nothing more to say about it.

Federal Reserve Board authority to limit installment credit terms expired at midnight. Congress purposely let it lapse.

Under the last stages of the reserve board controls, the board had received no protests at all on the 24-month time limit for credit buying of cars or the other goods under control—refrigerators, furniture, television sets, sewing machines, etc.

The cash downpayment for the latter goods has been 10 per cent, for autos one third.

Conviction Reversed In Bank Credit Case

New York, July 1 (AP)—The Appellate Division of the New York state Supreme Court has reversed the conviction of a New York bank and three officials on charges of giving false credit information about the financial standing of a convicted swindler.

The Title Guarantees and Trust Company was fined $2,500 a year ago on five counts charging it with making false statements. The bank and the three officials had been accused of giving false information about the credit rating of William B. Benjamin, former machine shop operator, Benjamin who pleaded guilty to swindling creditors out of $649,000 in 1936, is serving a 10-to-20 year prison term.

The court held yesterday there was "no direct proof" and not enough circumstantial evidence to show a "corrupt understanding or agreement" on the part of the accused.

The prosecution had charged the bankers issued good reports about Benjamin's credit in order to get back the money loaned to him on collateral which proved worthless.

Besides voiding the banking firm's conviction the court reversed the convictions of: Malcolm A. Angus, 48, of Manhattan, N. Y., the bank's assistant vice president, who was sentenced to six months on conspiracy and false information charges and who has been free on bail pending the appeal.

Loren H. Rockwell, 66, of New York, secretary-treasurer, who was given a suspended sentence on the conspiracy count.

Edwin W. Carlson, 32, of West Englewood, N. J., credit department manager, who was convicted of conspiracy and on three false information counts, and got a six-month suspended sentence.

A final report on moneys collected from sale of shop projects showed a total of $1,740.59.

Covered at Sahler's Trustee Morgan for the insurance committee reported that investigation had been made to ascertain the coverage which was carried against claims for damages arising out of injuries at the Sahler property. He said the carrier had informed the committee the board was fully covered at all times, and that claims arising during the time the city recreation department was using the grounds could be covered at no extra cost by securing an endorsement to that effect on the present policy. In regard to the M.J.M. play area it was stated the board was fully covered provided there were no bleachers used and when no admission is charged. Bleachers must be secured to cover the area when bleachers are used or admission charged. The matter is to be further considered.

Authority was granted to advertise for bids for work which it is estimated will cost in excess of $1,000. This is for work and materials to be used in summer maintenance work at various schools.

Laidlaw reported that new uniforms for the high school band have been ordered and will be here for use next fall. The uniforms are being paid for from the music fund, a fund derived from band, concerts and choir concerts. The cost will be approximately $4,480.

A financial report of the Kingston High School Athletic Association was received. On June 30, 1948 there was a balance of $1,313.52. Receipts to June 30, 1949 were $14,078.70. Total receipts $15,392.22. Disbursements were $14,563.56. Balance on hand June 30, 1949, $4,428.66, a net gain of $115.14 for the year.

After receiving routine reports the board adjourned. The next regular meeting will be held the first Thursday in September, the board having changed its regular meeting night from the fourth Thursday to the first Thursday of each month.
